Communication is the key to relationships at work, at home, anywhere. Yet, did you know research tells us that only 7% of our communication is based on the meaning of our words? Scary, isn't it? Understanding the other 93% - body language and voice quality, along with improved listening skills can turn you into a powerful communicator.

*To register, please call the AHBA office TODAY at (907)522-3605.
Advanced registration and payment is required.*

Regretfully Loussac Library does not allow food in the facility — please make lunch arrangements prior to class
